DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the corrugated longitudinal profile as called for in claim 19 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 16,23,29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Becker et al. (US 1835367).

Becker et al. discloses a king pile for retaining walls comprising a web and two parallel flanges carried by the web, said flanges being fitted with connection means along their longitudinal edges, wherein said flanges are reinforced (this is considered as the thickness of the flange that extends from the upper notch of the edge to the outermost section of the flange), on the side opposite the web over the major part of their width, by an extra material thickness, said extra material thickness starting only at a certain distance from the longitudinal edges of said flange, so that said flange has flange ends of smaller thickness carrying said connection means.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Becker et al. in view of Nolte (US 2093208).

Becker et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Becker et al. lacks the connection means as called for in claims 17-19. Nolte teaches the connection means as called for in claims 17-19 (see Fig. 2). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Becker et al. by substituting the connection means as taught by Nolte for the connection means disclosed by Becker et al. since it is a design choice to substitute equivalent parts to perform equivalent functions.

Insofar claim 19 is understood, Becker et al. as modified by Nolte teaches the claimed subject matter.

6. Claims 20-22, 24-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Becker et al.

Becker et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Becker et al. lacks the connection means as called for in claims 20-21, longitudinal groove as called for in claim 22, dimensions called for in claims 24-28. It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Becker et al. to include the connection means as called for in claims 20-21 since such means are conventional, to include a longitudinal groove as called for in claim 22 to reduce material usage and to provide the dimensions as called for in claims 24-28 since such thicknesses depend on the desired results.

7. Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Becker et al. in view of Cole et al. (US 4917543)

Becker et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Becker et al. lacks a wale. Cole et al. teaches a wale (30). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Becker et al. to include a wale as taught by Cole et al. in order to distribute forces.
